A Debit card is a payment card that deducts directly from your checking account. Most have the logo of a major banking institution but are not to be confused as a MAJOR credit card.

An authorization hold will be holding the security deposit total as unavailable or pending in your account until your banking institution releases the hold. Any Occasion Party Rental cannot release these funds.

Any Occasion Party Rental cannot be held responsible for the policies of the customer's banking institution regarding the holding of authorized funds. Please note authorization fund holds last for varying periods, depending on the issuing bank's policy. Typical holds vary from 3-5 days.

We strongly recommend a cash deposit for all debit cards to insure the return of your deposit in a timely fashion.
